OF NORTH CAROLINA.

For Presidential Electors.

WILLIAM AYER, ——

The Election.

The annual election for State officers took place yesterday. The weather was wet and dark and consequently not favorable for bringing out a large vote.

The issues, as we have previously said, were very much mixed, and it will take some time to disentangle the skein in order to determine the relative loss and gain. The general rule will doubtless prove true that those who staked themselves in opposition to the Maine Law have been defeated. Gov. Hubbard, very strangely, as it seems to us, on account of his support to the Maine Law has received a majority of the votes in this strongly whig city!

Our worthy Representative to Congress, Hon. Israel Washburn Jr., has a large vote and leaves the city with the very handsome majority of 761 votes. His election is beyond a question among his friends, and conceded by his political opponents of all shades.

The Whig Senators in this county will doubtless be elected.

We write this before receiving many returns, but we shall give below all the facts that we can gather by telegraph and otherwise, up to the hour of going to press.

REPRESENTATIVES.

Whigs—Bangor 2, Orono 1, Bucksport 1, Hancock 1, Gorham 1, Gardiner 1, Cumberland 1, Scarborough 1, Portland 3, Augusta 2, Belfast 1, Hallowell 1, Farmington 1, Chelsea 1, Orrington 1, Brewer 1; Carmel 1.

Whig Representatives—Bath, P. H. Moore; Camden, 1 gain; Waldoboro, Wm. S. Cargill; Calais, Noah Smith; Machias, Hawes; New Castle &c. Thos. Lemos.

Democrats—Scarborough, Sawyer; Clark Horsey. Oldtown, G. P. Sewall, Senator; Wiscasset &c. James Taylor; Belfast, H. Jewett; 3 maj. Hope, 1 Exeter, Kingsbury; Cherryfield, Foster; Dexter &c. J. H. Perkins.

☞ In the third Congressional district Farley, the whig candidate, in eight towns has 700 votes, and is undoubtedly elected.

☞ It is pretty certain from the returns that there is no choice of Governor by the people in York County Congress is a long way.

☞ In the Sixth Congressional district Fuller, loco, is probably elected.

☞ There is probably no choice of Senator in this County.

☞ The New Hampshire State Agricultural Society last year assigned to the editors of several papers in that State, the awarding of Committee on Beets, Honey, Sugar, &c. This was considered as a hit, for them to sweeten their editorial dishes. This year the Society detailed as a Committee on Hens! Whether this is a hint of anything in particular is not known, but it certainly can be no less than the doughty knights of the quill are the members.

☞ A party of New York capitalists among whom is Mr George Law, have associated themselves for the purpose of carrying out a magnificent undertaking, in the founding of a city opposite New York, on the west bank of the Hudson, on a track of land lying between and comprising Jersey City and Hoboken.

☞ A project has been set afoot by the friends of Homœopathy in New York for the establishment of a hospital in that city to be conducted in accordance with their system.

☞ The total number of deaths by cholera in the city of Buffalo, during the month of August, was 338—an average of about 11 a day.

☞ Naomi, the daughter of Enoch, was not married until she was one hundred and eighty years old! Be of good cheer, old maids, you yet have a hope.

☞ New Matrimony Market.—Two live niggers came through the mail, addressed in a sealed letter, from North Billerica, to a gentleman in this city, this morning. They were driven in in good order and well conditioned, and are doing well. This can hardly be considered as coming within the post-office law, defining "mailable matter." It is what printers would call a "live matter." If the secret agents of the department go to mousing in this case, the postmasters will probably be subjected to a cat-egorical examination, which must greatly rat-ter the public.—Lowell Courier.

The Apache Indians.

Advices from New Mexico report that Col. Seymour has made two treaties with two bands of the Apaches, who express themselves "tired of war, and desirous of peace." They say that the people of Sonora lately made peace with them, and gave them a feast, made them all drunk, and then treacherously massacred fourteen men and carried off twenty-seven women and children.

The Hartford Times, having attempted to undervalue the importance of the services of Gen. Scott in nullification times, when he was sent by General Jackson to Charleston to prevent a collision, the New Haven Palladium thus forcibly replies:

"The Times will not be able to take from General Scott the merit due to him for his skillful management of affairs in South Carolina during the nullification rebellion. The whole country gave him great praise for his prudent and patriotic conduct there. He had an extensive acquaintance in Charleston, and he sought the society of the leading nullifiers, treating them in the conciliatory manner. While he gave them distinctly to understand that he should do his duty at all hazards, he said nothing to irritate an individual there. In one of his letters to a leading member of the South Carolina Legislature then in session, he said—'my explicit wishes, that neither party may take a first step that might put all healing measures at defiance.' 'You and my other South Carolina friends have taken your respective sides, and I must follow out mine.' The officers and soldiers under Scott, who had occasion to visit the city, were instructed to give way to everybody, and not even to resent an indignity, should one be offered, but to look on the Carolinians as their fellow countrymen, whom all were anxious to reclaim from an unhappy delusion. A great fire occurred at Charleston at the time. Scott was the first to see the rising flames, and he immediately despatched his troops to the scene of danger, under their proper officers, and directed them to report themselves to the mayor of the city, and ask for employment. The brave Major Hindgold was first sent forward to explain the intentions of the troops, and to learn whether their services would be agreeable. They were cordially received, and their labors were of immense value in saving Charleston from destruction. These and other acts of kindness delicately performed, tended to prevent any collision between the troops and the people. Scott well knew that even a drunken fight, between one of his soldiers and a Carolinian, might light up the flame of civil war; for he said in one of his letters to a member of the Legislature—'Let but one drop of blood be shed upon the canvass, and it becomes all red.' The Hartford Times cannot take from General Scott the praise due to him for his wise and most prudent, yet firm and kindly conduct at Charleston. Its effect was felt throughout the whole of that always unhappy State. Brave as Scott always is in battle, he dreads a war as a great calamity to the world; hence his noble signature, that 'an honorable peace is always more glorious than the most successful war.'"

Woman's Right Convention.

The telegraph has already reported the opening business of the Women's Right Convention in session at Syracuse, on Wednesday. Full reports are not yet received, but the proceedings appear to be of about the same character as at previous Conventions. Gerrit Smith reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the demand of woman is not for privileges, nor favors, nor employment, nor honors, but for rights.

Resolved, That the right of human beings to their own persons—to their own earnings and property, and to participate in the choice of the civil rule, are rights which belong as naturally absolutely to women as to men.

Resolved, That we beseech woman never to consent to hold any of these great sacred rights in abeyance, nor to consent to exchange any of them for tribute and privileges, or favors and flatteries, however alluring and seductive.

Mrs. E. Oakes Smith advocated woman's right to resist taxation. Lucy Stone expressed her disgust at the law which gives a husband his wife's earnings and property. Miss Brown said women could not get justice in courts, because they could not be tried by their peers.

Mrs. E. Oakes Smith offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the imbruted slave who is content with his lot and would not be free if he could, (if any such there be,) only gives evidence of the depth of his degradation; so the woman who is satisfied with her inferior condition, observing that she has all the rights she wants, does but exhibit the enervating effect of the wrongs to which she is subjected.

An Awful Tragedy.

A most revolting tragedy took place at Brownstown, Pa., a few days since. It appears that two brothers, named Hiram and Warren Francisco, who were engaged in duck peddling, agreed to meet at a public house in the vicinity of Brownstown. One of the brothers reached the tavern about nine o'clock in the evening, and inquired if his brother had arrived, and was informed by the landlord that he had not. The Cincinnati Nonpareil gives us the annexed particulars:

"After eating his supper he called for a light, and asked to be shown to bed. The landlord informed him that he had no candles about the house, but if he would follow him, he would take him to bed. Francisco followed the landlord into a dark room, and undressed himself and retired to rest. The bed seemed to be wet, and having some matches about him, he struck a light. Upon examining the bed he found it was wet with blood! Discovering a candle on a table near by, he lit it, and looking under the bed, saw the body of his brother, with his throat cut from ear to ear, and perfectly lifeless! Fastening the door immediately, he proceeded to load a revolver which he had, but before he could do so there was an effort made by several men to enter his room. Pretending not to be alarmed, he asked them to wait until he dressed himself. As soon as he had finished loading his pistol he opened the door, and the landlord and two other men rushed on him, when he fired two barrels of his pistol, immediately killing the landlord and one of his accomplices, after which the other man fled."

☞ Tobacco.—A Concord correspondent of the Manchester Journal, makes the following prediction and wishes it put on record, viz:—"that General Pierce will receive less votes in New Hampshire on the 2d day of November next, than Gen. Cass received in 1848, while General Scott will receive 6000 more votes than were given to General Taylor in 1848." As one of the grounds for this belief he gives the following:

"In a single village in this State reside two orderly Democrats, who have been very influential men in the Democratic party—place in its temple they might be called, when we consider them in a local sense, and both have served as Electors of President and Vice President in other years, voting for the Democratic nominees as Electors; and I now have it upon good authority that neither of them will vote for Gen. Pierce. Each acts independently of the other in the matter, as from some cause, to me unknown, they are not on speaking terms with each other, although of influence, wealth and respectability. Others there are and not a few in all, who deem it their duty to withhold their votes from the Democratic nominee."

Washington, Sept. 10.

It is stated that Col. Forney, Clerk of the House of Representatives, has become part proprietor of the Washington Union, and will resign his office on the 1st of December. B. B. French is mentioned as his successor.

Coffee a Disinfecting Agent.—A room in which the putrid stench of meat or any other offensive substance, is so great as to be unbearable to a robust set of lungs, may be purified in five minutes by a few ounces of coffee roasted in the room. During our late sickness with small pox, it had not been for coffee and chloride of lime, the room would have become sufficiently offensive to destroy human life, without any other disease. Remember that the most valuable property of coffee—its greater than its use as a beverage—is its power of dispelling all disagreeable odors from the house, by simply conveying the roaster through the apartments, while the process of browning coffee, is going on; or a few grains may be put on some embers, upon a shovel, and carried about for the same purpose.—I know.

Potato Rot.—A fine potato field at Byfield, belonging to Daniel Colman, Esq., of about an acre and a half, in which the potatoes had grown to a large size and of excellent quality, has within a few days been struck with the rot, so that there is not a sound potato in the field, and the whole crop is worthless. Those which were dug and brought into the house some days before in a sound state, were struck at the same time with the disease and with equal virulence. They are Chenangoes.

The Gloucester Telegraph of Monday says, "We regret exceedingly to learn that the rot has made its appearance in some of the potato fields in our Cape."—Newburyport Herald.

Song of the Heart. No. 3.

BY B. HAMMATT BILLINGS.

"To my Mother."

My Mother, though I still may roam,
The Minstrel's heart is with his home,
And oft-times in his simple lays,
He treasures thought of by-gone days.

My Mother, in those days of yore
As pleasant scenes we wandered o'er,
We never thought that ought would come
To mar the joy of our happy home.

We thought not that the angel Death,
Would come to us, with his poisonous breath
And take from out our household band
A loved one to the spirit land.

Change, and change, this has come,
And cast a gloom o'er my boyhood home,
And will gather no more around the hearth
We were once we met in joyous mirth.

Brentford, C. W. 1852.

It is simple and harmless for children, as well as very palatable. We use the article ourselves, and would recommend our readers to call on Ingraham & Fuller and get a bottle for trial.—ab

BANGOR AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE!

THE best Cook Stove ever introduced to this or any other people.

Having secured the sole agency of this very durable Stove, I take great pleasure in offering it to my customers and the public. This Stove was invented expressly for this eastern market, by those experienced and expert Stove manufacturers, Messrs. Bates & Whittier, who know, and have appreciated the wants of this enlightened people. It is now offered to the public with the fullest confidence in its merits, and its superiority over every other Cooking apparatus ever introduced. Its convenience for Boiling, Broiling, Frying, &c., are not surpassed, and its extensive and beautiful Oven for Baking and Roasting, will at once recommend itself to the Ladies. One very important feature is, it has very steel and smooth castings, and being manufactured in this city, can at all times be repaired, if ever necessary, at a trifling expense without subjecting one to wait for castings to be ordered from New York, Rhode Island, or elsewhere. Every Stove is warranted one year, and one not giving entire satisfaction may be returned and the money will be refunded after 30 days trial.

—ALSO—

A great variety of other patterns of cooking Stoves, such as the Our State, Bay State, Empire State, Granite State, State of Maine, &c., All or any of which will be sold at extremely low prices.

Elevated Oven Stoves—Hamilton, Round Hollow and two Oval—Boston Improved Oven Stoves, Forrest Oven &c.—and that very beautiful pattern of Cottage Parlor Cook Stove, and in fact every variety of Stove for Cooking or warming, worthy of notice, can be found at the Central Street Stove and Furnace Depot.
